Gordon Lee Madlon, 65 of Jump River, died on Saturday, January 16, 2021 at Aspirus Wausau Hospital. He was born on March 25, 1955 to the late Leo and Edna (Couillard) Madlon. Gordon grew up in the area and on December 14, 1974 he was united in marriage to Veronica Kennedy at St. Augustine's Catholic Church in Ingram. Gord was a farmer most of his life.

The couple milked cows with his parents for 13 years, then ran beef on their own place. Gord was a man with a large heart who enjoyed being with his family, his animals, and was kind to all. Gord was a fighter who would work through any challenge no matter how great to find a solution or work around. He loved to be out in the woods or out in the fields. Gord loved his comedy and having fun with those around him.

He was always doing something, whether enjoying his cup of tea, Pepsi, or an occasional beer, taking care of his animals, or out fixing something. He enjoyed snowmobiling and riding the wheelers.

He is survived by his wife of 46 years, Veronica, "Roni" Madlon, his children, Sherry Madlon of Middleton and Jesse (Lena) Madlon of Glen Flora, 3 grandchildren, his siblings, Gregg (Lynn Kendall) Madlon of Glen Flora, Cynthia (John) Prasnicky and Joel Madlon of Jump River, and Randy (Loralee) Madlon of Lublin and many nieces and nephews.

Gord will be missed deeply by all he knew, especially his family.

Gordon is preceded in death by his parents, his sisters, Sharon and Jeanette a grandchild, Kenneth Howland.

A private family service will be held at a later date.
